Here is a constellation of wonders!

(Charles Spurgeon)

"In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace;" Ephesians 1:7

Could there be a sweeter word in any language than that word "forgiveness," when it sounds in a guilty sinner's ear!

Can it be possible that sin—such heinous sin as mine—can be forgiven, forgiven altogether, and forever? Hell is my portion as a sinner—there is no possibility of my escaping from it while sin remains upon me.

Can the unfathomable load of my guilt be removed? Can the crimson stain of my sins be blotted out?

Can the adamant stones of my prison-house ever be loosed, or the doors be lifted from their hinges?

Jesus tells me that I may yet be forgiven. What joy is this! What bliss to be a perfectly pardoned soul! My soul dedicates all her powers to Him who of His own unpurchasable love became my surety, and wrought out for me redemption through His blood.

What riches of grace does free forgiveness exhibit!

To forgive at all,
to forgive fully,
to forgive freely,
to forgive forever!

Here is a constellation of wonders!

When I think of...how great my sins were, how dear were the precious drops which cleansed me from them, and how gracious was the method by which pardon was sealed home to me,

I am in a maze of wondering worshipping affection!

I bow before the throne which absolves me!

I clasp the cross which delivers me!

I serve henceforth all my days—the Incarnate God, through whom I am this day a pardoned soul!
